Quarry Mining & Construction to show underground drilling range at QME

Quarry Mining & Construction Equipment will display its range of supplies for underground coal mining and tunnelling infrastructure projects on Stand 1109 during the 2008 Queensland Mining and Engineering (QME) exhibition at the Mackay Showground from July 22-24.

With offices in Mackay Brisbane and the Hunter Valley, Quarry Mining & Construction focuses on customising and manufacturing products for customers' drilling requirements.

Its drilling consumables for soft rock roof support include extension rods, rotary drill bits in all sizes with all thread and connection types, roof bolt spanners and various adaptors. The hard rock consumables drilling range includes standard and retract button bits, extension rods, shank rods, adaptors and couplings.

Quarry Mining also supplies a range of hand-held equipment including rock drills, roof bolters, rib borers, pumps and breakers.

Many of the products are imported from Italy, Canada and the UK and can be modified for use in underground coal mines.
