HMG Westhill puts spotlight on sustainable development at QME

HMG Westhill will discuss its sustainable development philosophy on Stand 9051 during the 2008 Queensland Mining and Engineering (QME) exhibition at the Mackay Showground from July 22-24.

HMG (Heavy Maintenance Group) is a newly-formed company with a focus on servicing the booming mining industry both in Australia and abroad. The company has offices in Brisbane, Mackay, Sydney and Melbourne.

HMG strives to provide clients with comprehensive and integrated engineering capabilities that add significant value well beyond the repair process.

HMG Westhill specialises in draglines, wash plants, hydraulic cylinders, drills and bearings as well as site services (fixed plant and projects) and workshop services (surface finishing, machining, refurbishment, fabrication and manufacture).

The company provides specialist maintenance lifecycle services (design, manufacture, commission, maintain and overhaul).

HMG Hardchrome is a leading supplier of hardchrome plating, hydraulic cylinder refurbishment and general engineering services.

HMG ATMR specialises in motor, gearbox, transformer and pump repairs and the provision of technical, site and consultancy services.

HMG ATMR also provides laser alignment, HV field service, light and heavy engineering, load testing, thermal imaging, pump, motor and gearbox field service, transformer and switchgear field service, switchgear, power generation, general engineering and fabrication services.
